Wizr

Cumulative loan book hits $150m

Wizr Limited (ASX:WZR) is an online consumer lending platform focused on financial wellness and competing in the rapidly growing marketplace lending sector. The company has announced that average daily settlements have now hit close to $500,000, bringing the cumulative loan book this quarter to date to $150m. This puts Wizr on track to meet or exceed our forecast for $160m in cumulative loans in H1 FY20. Our base case DCF valuation (WACC 14.0%, terminal value 2.2%) is $0.55/share and estimates that WZR's cumulative loan book will reach $240m in FY20, rising to $899m by FY22 and that Wizr will have a 7.0% share of the consumer credit market by the end of FY29. An upside case valuation of $2.25/share, which uses the same discount rate and valuation parameters, estimates a 20% share of the consumer credit market by FY29.

Business model

Wizr writes personal loans to Australian consumers for 3- and 5-year maturities and on-sells these loans either through internal mechanisms or to institutional, retail and wholesale investors. Wizr has used its technology platform to launch a range of non-lending initiatives, including WizrCredit, a comparison site for credit scores, WizrApp, which encourages consumers to round up small transactional purchases and use this to pay down debt, and Wizr@Work which partners with companies and organisations to deliver financial wellness to employees. These initiatives are driving down Wizr's cost of acquisition.

Acceleration increases

The company has reached $150m in cumulative loans this quarter to date after experiencing an acceleration in average daily settlements, which are approaching $500,000. The $150m mark was achieved with the initial $50m taking 45 months to originate, the second $50m taking more than 8 months and the most recent $50m written in less than 6 months. As we highlighted in our report Growth trajectory earns a valuation upgrade, we anticipated that Wizr's loan book would emulate its international (Lending Club) and domestic (SocietyOne and Ratesetter) peers once its loan book surpassed $100m, which it achieved in Q4 FY19. Wizr noted that daily settlements are up more than 105% on the same period last year. This puts Wizr on track to meet or exceed our forecast for H1FY20 cumulative loans of $160m. We highlighted our forecasts in our recent report, NAB loan deal triples margin, DCF rises to \$0.55/share.

Base case valuation is $0.55/share

Our base case valuation is $0.55/share fully diluted (WACC 14% and terminal value in year 10 of $0.34/share) and assumes that Wizr's cumulative loan book will surpass $1bn by June 2022. We have included the dilutionary effect of 52.9m performance shares in our DCF valuation. Our forecasts are predicated on the company following a similar growth trajectory to its Australian and international peers. Our base case implies that at 30 June 2028, WZR will have 7.0% share of Australia's ~$110bn consumer credit market.
